Supervisor Hagman Honors Labor in San Bernardino County

San Bernardino County Supervisor Curt Hagman today celebrated the achievements of all workers on this Labor Day 2016, and looked to the future with great optimism as the County continues to thrive.

“Since federal recognition as a national holiday in 1884, Labor Day has recognized the vital role workers play in all economic activities” Supervisor Hagman noted. “Here in San Bernardino County, I’m especially proud of the active role our county government takes in creating jobs and boosting the economy”.

Recently, the popular shopping network QVC brought their first warehouse distribution center on the west coast to the City of Ontario. The million square foot warehouse just had its grand opening ceremony featuring Supervisor Hagman, and is bringing over 2,000 jobs to our County. The location is business perfect, with easy access to Ontario International Airport and our rail/truck distribution network. This economic home run is being praised by all parties and is a great example of additional job opportunities and growth in our County!

Supervisor Hagman and the County of San Bernardino look to the county Workforce Development Board for identification and development of future employees. Through their job centers, this Board helps train and provides education to local citizens so they may achieve their career goals. “These job centers are a great investment within our own County, as we look to develop the next generation of workers,” said Hagman.

Workforce Development Board Member and Patton Steel Company President Jon Novack commented, “The Workforce Development Board is the perfect blend of businesses with the help of County government bringing new jobs and economic growth to our County”. Curt Hagman was elected to serve San Bernardino County’s Fourth District in November of 2014. Prior to that, he served as a State Legislator and a City Councilman and Mayor. The Fourth District includes the cities of Chino, Chino Hills, Montclair, Ontario and the southern portion of Upland. It spans approximately 133 square miles and is home to over 400,000 residents.
