HAGMAN APPOINTS WAPNER AS POLICY DIRECTOR

Chino Hills, CA – Vice Chairman Supervisor Curt Hagman announced the appointment of Alan Wapner, to the position of Policy Director for the Fourth District.

“Alan is a great asset to my team with his extensive knowledge and technical expertise in local government and economic development,” stated Hagman.

Wapner has faithfully served as a Policy Advisor for Supervisor Curt Hagman since September 2015. He has a deep understanding of local government and economic development. Wapner has been a member of the Ontario City Council for over 20 years. During his tenure on the Ontario City Council, the city has experienced record economic success. His leadership in the projects like the Ontario Mills Mall, the Ontario Convention Center, the Ontario Police Station, as well as the Citizens Business Bank Arena are just a few of the projects that have improved the quality of life for the residents of Ontario and local communities. Wapner might be best known for leading the “Set ONTario Free” campaign, that has resulted in the return of Ontario International Airport to local control.

“Bringing back Ontario International Airport to local control was one of the first projects Alan and I worked on together,” continued Hagman. “Now that we have the airport in local control we can look at economic development surrounding the airport, as well as reviving some of our other landmarks in the Fourth District,” Hagman commented.

Prior to his election to the City Council, Wapner was the Vice President of the Ontario-Montclair School Board, where he was a tireless advocate for improving public education. On the School Board, Wapner was a leader in making sure the district’s children received the best education possible. Wapner has a record of serving people in elective office, but he is perhaps best known for his law enforcement experience. After graduating law school, Wapner became a police officer in an effort to make a positive difference for his community. Wapner retired as a sergeant from the Ontario Police Department in 1998 and became an active and successful small business owner.

“I am very humbled to be appointed as the Policy Advisor for Supervisor Hagman,” Wapner stated. “I look forward to working with a great team of policy advisors to provide policy recommendations to Supervisor Hagman,” Wapner continued.

Wapner has been a resident of Ontario for over 35 years. He is married to Judi, and has five children and two grandchildren. Alan graduated from the University of Southern California, where he received his B.A. and received his Law Degree from Whittier College School of Law.
