The African Americans “Many Rivers to Cross”

In honor of Black History Month and Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 150 CHAPTER 74 which designates the second week of February as African American Mental Health Awareness Week, we are excited to view The African Americans “Many Rivers to Cross” as our next film for the diversity film series. In this documentary, Professor Henry Louis Gates, Jr. explores the “The Black Atlantic,” the global experiences that created the African-American people. The episode portrays the earliest Africans, slave and free, who arrived on these shores.

Culture is a strong part of our lives. It influences our views, our values, our humor, our hopes, our loyalties, our worries and fears. Join the Office of Cultural Competence and Ethnic Services for a monthly featured film that highlights various elements of culture and human experiences globally and locally.
