16K999 Complaint Inspection

Compliance Date: Not Specified

Inspector Comments: A complaint investigation was conducted on this date in response to a complaint received by Environmental Health Services on 9/28/2020.

Reference - HSC

According to the complainant, the facility was observed selling expired food including drinks that were expired by 2 years. The complainant stated an employee was notified about this issue and that the employee said it is up to the customer to check dates prior to purchase.

On this date, the person in charge stated he was aware about this complaint and stated a refund was offered to the customer. The person in charge stated the complainant purchased 2 2-liter bottles of soda that were past the best by date. The person in charge stated the facility does not actively check for expiration dates unless it is dairy products, eggs, or meat. The person in charge stated the facility will refund or exchange any unopened products past the expiration or best by dates printed on the food product label with no questions asked.

On this date, several canned food products were observed past the best by dates printed on the labels. However, no bulging or severe dents were observed along the seams of the canned food products. Observed no potentially hazardous food past the expiration or best by dates on labels. Observed all potentially hazardous food held within proper temperature control of 41 F or below in the walk-in refrigerator. The person in charge was notified about the canned food products that were observed past the best by date and strongly encouraged to remove these food products from retail shelves.

Ensure all food is manufactured, produced, prepared, compounded, packed, transported, kept for sale, and served so as to be pure and free from adulteration and spoilage. Any food is adulterated if it bears or contains any poisonous or deleterious substance that may render it impure or injurious to health. Highly recommend the facility discards any food products past the best by date. At this time, no evidence was observed to warrant further action and the complaint will be closed.

NOTE: A routine inspection was also conducted on this date. For additional information, please see routine inspection report with serial number DASJA3ST conducted on 9/29/2020.
