Dabbling in Reality: Salton Sea Refuges with Museum Director and ornithologist Robert McKernan

What's so important about wildlife refuges? Find out in person when Museum Director and ornithologist Robert McKernan will lead a trip to the Salton Sea to visit the Sonny Bono refuge, with tens of thousands of wintering waterfowl. The day will not be strenuous, but does include walking on sand and possibly mud. Depart from the museum in Redlands at 7 a.m. $70 per person ($60 for a Museum Association member) includes morning coffee, lunch and transportation. Advance reservations required by November 8.

Wintering Birds in Big Bear Valley with Museum Director and ornithologist Robert McKernan

Survey the wintering birds of Big Bear Valley in the San Bernardino Mountains. We will spend most of the day searching for bald eagle, other raptors, and the many waterfowl species that use the Big Bear Lake during the winter. The day will not be strenuous, but does include walking on gravel and sand. Depart from the museum in Redlands at 7 a.m. $70 per person ($60 for a Museum Association member) includes morning coffee, lunch, and transportation. Advance reservations required by Nov. 30.

- Visit www.sbcountymuseum.org for more details about each of these trips.
- Wear comfortable, sturdy walking shoes, dress in layers, and bring a hat and sunscreen.
- Check in 1/2 hour before departure.

All trips have limited space and pre-paid reservations are required.
