

Livestock Confinement

Just a friendly reminder that if you own livestock, PLEASE make sure that you keep it securely confined to your property. Livestock cannot be allowed to run loose because they can cause damage to people, vehicles, property, etc.

Livestock that escape and are found wandering will be picked up and taken to a local animal shelter and the owner will have to pay fees to get them back. They may also be fined for not properly containing their animals. So please do the right thing for you, your animals, your neighbors, and your community by keeping your livestock safe and secure on your property. Thank you!

San Bernardino County
Animal Care & Control Program
(800) 472-5609

