1.2	2.1	1.6	1.6	2.5

Agency Response

The ratio calculated using unrestricted cash and current liabilities is skewed because the District reports a significant balance of Cash and Equivalents, that directly offset some of the current liabilities, as Restricted. For example, at June 2014, Restricted cash and equivalents included $1,555,597 to offset the current portion of long term debt, $1,848,421 to offset Customer Deposits, and $1,305,081 to offset Construction Advances. These are shown on page 29 of the District's June 2014 CAFR. If these restricted cash amounts are included in the numerator of the calculation, the Liquidity ratio at June 2014 becomes 1.18 (11,140,883 / 9,451,666).

Agency Response

For 2008 the economic downtime caused lower than expected revenues and in turn, reduced cash balances. The District did not raise rates while the economy struggled to recover and cash reached its lowest levels in June 2010. A three-year phased in rate increase beginning October 2010 has helped the District re-establish adequate cash reserves. The significant decrease in Cash and Cash Equivalents during the 2013-14 fiscal year is due to the expenditure of $13.7 million in bond proceeds on the Capital projects for which the bonds were issued. This is explained in the MD&A on page k of the June 2014 CAFR.

Agency Response

Between 2008 and 2010, during which time the District did not adopt any rate increases, the District's PERS employer contribution rate rose from 15.056% to 16.424%. Though the contribution rate continued to rise to 18.664% in 2012, rate increases, reductions in staff size, and higher employee participation in payments to PERS have helped reverse the upward trending in this ratio. In addition the Public Employees Pension Reform Act has helped to reduce pension costs as new employees are hired under the new 2% @ 62 formula.
