Supervisor Joe Baca, Jr. Supports Community Christian College with a $15,000 Contribution

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. - In a heartfelt gesture of community support, Supervisor Joe Baca, Jr. presented a $15,000 check to Community Christian College, designated for a new charter bus. This contribution emphasizes Supervisor Baca, Jr.'s dedication to education and showcases the deep connections nurtured within the community.

The ceremony was filled with touching moments and tributes. Jasmine Ray, the Athletic Director of Community Christian College and notably the first African American woman to coach a college football team, shared, "Mr. Baca, reflecting on your coaching days, your passion and commitment always stood out. Your stories of dedication to the softball program resonate deeply with me. Having been under the guidance of coaches like you, I felt a profound connection to your journey. Your influence has been invaluable."

Supervisor Baca, Jr., responded, "Coaching has always been about more than just the game for me. It's about nurturing and believing in every individual player. I've been blessed to learn from and be inspired by so many talented individuals."

This contribution is a testament to Supervisor Baca, Jr.'s unwavering commitment to fostering local talent, education, and community bonds. The charter bus promises to be a valuable asset for Community Christian College's students and athletes in the years to come.
