The male driver—and sole occupant of the car had to be extricated by firefighters who used the Jaws of Life.

Two men were seriously injured following a head on crash in Johnson Valley Thursday afternoon. County Fire Battalion Chief Mike McClintock said firefighters from Yucca Valley and Yucca Mesa—as well as the California Highway Patrol and Morongo Basin Ambulance—were called at 4:44 p.m. to Old Woman Springs Road near Olivine Road for a head-one collision.

Paramedics found one man in a gray 4-door car who needed to be extricated using the Jaws of life; the man in a blue Ford F-150 pick-up truck had gotten out on his own prior to the arrival of first responders. One man was flown by Mercy Air to Desert Hospital in Palm Springs; the other man was taken by MBA to Desert. The California Highway Patrol is investigating.
