PHELAN, Calif. (VVNG.com) — A vehicle overturned and landed on its roof after it crashed into the back of a semi Monday afternoon.

It happened on February 25, 2019, at 12:16 pm on State Route 138 near State Route 2.

According to the California Highway Patrol incident logs, a sedan hit the back of a semi and the vehicle rolled over in the lanes heading downhill.

San Bernardino County Firefighters responded to the call and located a dark blue 'Nissan Kicks' on its roof with one person requiring extrication.

The crash is causing traffic delays in both directions of Highway 138. CHP was alternating traffic using one lane but at one point stopped traffic completely.

Information on possible injuries was not available. Additional details will be updated as they become available.
