

NEWS

News Headlines 9/13/2017

— Accident causes fire hydrant to send water gushing into the air in Fontana

=

Accident causes fire hydrant to send water gushing into the air in Fontana

Fontana Herald News

Posted: September 12, 2017, 3:00 PM

A single-vehicle traffic accident caused a fire hydrant to break and send water gushing more than 50 feet into the air on Sept. 9. (Contributed photo by Jeremy Ingold)

A single-vehicle traffic accident caused a fire hydrant to break and send water gushing more than 50 feet into the air on a street in northern Fontana on Sept. 9.

No persons were injured during the incident, which took place at about noon on Oleander Avenue near Baseline Avenue, according to the San Bernardino County Fire Department.

Fontana Water Company workers were called to shut off the water, which drenched the street and part of a nearby field

http://www.fontanaheraldnews.com/news/accident-causes-fire-hydrant-to-send-water-gushing-into-the/article_632bf8f2-97f0-11e7-a8a4-2f17e24944db.html