

Argument Against Measure R

Measure R would allow bureaucrats to run our County without the appropriate checks and balances by elected leaders accountable to the voters. We elect people to hold staff accountable for the policies that spend our hard earned tax dollars.

Measure R attempts to save money by turning full-time jobs into part-time responsibilities. But the result will be the opposite. Measure R will make Supervisors spend more time on full-time jobs elsewhere instead of working for the progress of San Bernardino County. This County needs Supervisors who are able to spend the required amount of time carefully scrutinizing the $4 billion annual budget that serves the 2 million people that live within our communities.

Measure R also eliminates voters' right to set the salaries of other countywide elected officials.

Measure R was drafted because elected leaders were holding the line against excessive spending. If passed it will empower unelected bureaucrats and take oversight away from our elected leaders resulting in bigger deficits and a worse economy. If you want your elected officials to be held accountable, and have the necessary resources to make decisions that benefit our county, vote No on Measure R.
