ARGUMENT AGAINST MEASURE Q

County politicians are at it again! In 2006 county politicians fooled voters into supporting a $50,000-a-year raise by claiming a ballot measure was about term limits.

It was a sham proposal then, and Measure Q today is equally deceptive. Measure Q is not about reform at all. Not even close.

In the last three years, several county politicians have either been charged or convicted for violating the public trust! Now, these politicians want to maintain their lavish pay and benefits through Measure Q.

Do not be fooled! Vote NO on Measure Q!

When 73,000 concerned taxpayers approved a measure to cut the pay of professional politicians, they responded by forcing this deceptive proposal on the ballot to confuse and mislead voters.

In fact, the leading proponent of Measure Q—a career politician who has been in office for nearly a decade—has pledged to resign office if Measure Q is defeated!

Measure Q allows politicians' hefty pay and benefits to continue unchecked. Politicians will keep free cars, gasoline, cell phones and HUGE retirement pensions—paid for by YOU!

County politicians even created a loophole in Measure Q to exempt themselves from any "cuts" during their current term.

The average working family in San Bernardino County makes $55,000 annually, but Measure Q ensures politicians will continue to receive an average of $270,000 a year "during their current term of office" for part-time work.

Measure Q guarantees county politicians earn FOUR TIMES the average family. Is that real reform?

Law enforcement organizations, working families, Democrats and Republicans all agree—Measure Q is a sneaky attempt by politicians to protect their interests, not the interests of taxpayers.

Please do not be misled. VOTE NO on Measure Q, the politicians' phony proposal. It is a deceptive and sham measure that "reforms" nothing.
